BOY SCOUTS GIVE AID IN AUTO CRASH

HARDWARE MAN SERIOUSLY INJURED, IS CARED FOR
AT TROOP QUARTERS

After lying in a critical condition since early last Saturday morning, when he was injured in an automobile crash, E. A. Weegar, member of the firm of Fields & Weegar of the Covina Department store, was reported yesterday as rallying slowly at the Covina hospital.

That Mr. Weegar may have owed his life to the prompt and efficient action of two Boy Scouts in administering first aid is attested to by Dr. W. P. Magan and Dr. Wallace Reed, who have declared that Scouts Vernon Shaw and Merwin Gilmore were responsible for the stopping of a serious hemorrhage, and that the bandages and treatment given by the Scouts would be approved by any surgeon.

Mr. Weegar suffered two fractured ribs, a deep scalp wound and a possible slight fracture of the skull, as the result of a collision between the Buick coupe which he was driving, and a Dodge roadster driven by Hollan Futrelle, a Covina youth living on East Badillo street. Futrelle was not injured. The accident occurred Saturday morning at 7:50 o'clock, near the corner of East Badillo avenue and Second street, and almost in front of the headquarters of Boy Scout troop No. 2, which is under the scoutmastership of C. Willard (Chet) White. The crash caused Weegar's machine to career from the street, striking a big palm tree, and Weegar was thrown against the tree with violent force. Scouts Gilmore and Shaw were cooking breakfast at the headquarters after having spent the night there following a camping trip.

The two Scouts took the unconscious man into the troop hall, gave him first aid, telephoned for doctors and for an ambulance. He was removed to the Covina hospital, where for several days there was grave doubt as to his recovery. The cause of the accident is under investigation.

The Misses Grace and Eunice Outland, living near the crash, rushed to the assistance of the injured man and aided in summoning assistance. Victor Toney, field scout executive for the Pasadena and San Gabriel valley areas, was in Covina this week, making a full investigation of the action of the Scouts, with a view to recommending a citation from the organization.

"We never know how much of the first aid education actually gets into the consciousness of the members," he said; "but this practical demonstration is invaluable to us in pointing to the necessity for keeping up this branch of the work."

Scout Vernon Shaw is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Shaw, the former a teacher at the high school, and Merwin Gilmore is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gilmore.

Covina Baseball Team Wins Close Ventura Contest

Coach Newman took his baseball team to Ventura last Saturday and met the high school team of that city, winning the contest by a score of 3 to 2. The Covina boys are said to have played their best ball of the season, making few errors. Chamberlain did the pitching.

Ventura started the game off with a regular slugfest to bring in two runs and held this lead until the sixth inning, when Chamberlain slammed out a homer with Arnel on base, thus tying the score. In the ninth, Duncan, with a sacrifice hit, brot Chamberlain in to score the winning run.

Ventura has a star pitched who fanned ten of the Covina batters, while Chamberlain fanned fifteen of the Venturans.

Arnel, Chamberlain and Coltrin garnered two hits each, with Booth and Griffen scoring one hit each.

Tuesday afternoon the locals met Lincoln high school of Los Angeles on the home grounds and won by a score of something like 13 to 2. Fischer and Willoughby composed the battery.

Wednesday afternoon Covina met and defeated Roosevelt high school of Los Angeles for the second time, the score being 5-2. The game was played on the Roosevelt diamond.

SCHOOL ELECTION

Election for high school trustees in the Covina union high school district is advertised in this issue of the Argus on another page, to take place in all the school districts on Friday, March 29.

Advertising Expert to Be Speaker at Chamber Meeting

A meeting of exceptional importance to all business men in the city is announced by the Covina chamber of commerce to take place next Tuesday noon at the Covina hotel, when Arthur Deane Smith, advertising consultant, will make an address on the subject, "The City of Covina—What Shall We Do to Increase Its Business Volume?"

Mr. Smith is past president of the Los Angeles Ad club, and past president of the California State Retail Furniture association. He directed advertising for Barker Brothers in Los Angeles for seventeen years. Every man and woman in business in Covina is urged to attend, according to a statement yesterday by President Ben F. Thorpe of the chamber.

Order of Moose Plans Meeting of Organization

A meeting that filled the dining room at Longworth's cafe on Tuesday evening launched the first definite movement toward the organizing of a lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose in Covina.

The dinner was attended by many members of this order who have been affiliated with the lodge in Pomona and other localities, and a strong presentation of the proposition was made by Ben Brick, supervisor in this district for this order.

It was voted to hold an open meeting for all Covina residents on Tuesday, March 26, at the grammar school, when it is expected that the fifty-piece band of the Los Angeles lodge, 134, will be the principal feature of the musical program. Supervisor Brick is arranging for speakers, among whom it is expected that Mayor Cryer of Los Angeles, and Antonio Entenza, past state commander of the Spanish War Veterans, will be present. Covina citizens are urged to hear these speakers tell the story of the Moose order, and of Mooseheart, the "City of Childhood."

Acting Chairman Charles Warner appointed the following committees: arrangements, Walter Gilmore, A. H. Jumper, William A. Hicks; mayor's committee, Charles Ham, George Simeonoff, Charles Warner; seating, Willard C. White, Tom Coons, Ray Lewis and Volney Gage; decorating, Roy Carter, Henry White and R. V. Barnes; speaker's committee, Roy Johnson, Frank Johnson; entertainment, Louis Nasti, George Powers and George Simeonoff; publicity, W. Colver and Laurence McSwain.

Valley Chambers Oppose Change in Flood Control

Representatives of twenty-two chambers of commerce, meeting as the board of directors of the associated chambers of commerce of the San Gabriel valley, went on record Wednesday as strongly opposed to any change in the control of the Los Angeles county flood control district, and sent telegrams to southern assemblymen and senators, now at Sacramento, asking them to oppose the bill.

The bill proposes to take the flood control administration out of the hands of the board of supervisors, and to set up another political subdivision, with elective officials empowered to hire engineers, and without being responsible to the county supervisors. Chambers of commerce in southern California have gone on record against the idea. It is not probable that the bill will be introduced, because of almost unanimous opposition.

Wake of the Presbyterian church; 5th word, L. S. Brubaker of the Brethren church; 6th word, George Stead of the Methodist church; 7th word, M. L. Kain of the Episcopal church.

GREEN MOTIF FEATURED AT WOMAN'S CLUB

HOME ECONOMICS PROGRAM
PLEASINGLY DECORATIVE;
POTTER'S ART SHOWN

The St. Patrick luncheon given by the home economics section of the Woman's club Monday was one of the most attractive meetings of its year. The tables, decorated by Mrs. J. R. Elliott and Miss Elizabeth Elliott, were unusually pretty in green and white. Large bowls of jonquils, bridal wreath and daisy snowflakes formed the centerpiece, white taper candles tied with green and white bows adding the finishing touch. Shahrrook leaves were the foundations for the nut cups, and the proverbial Irishman's pipe was also used.

The menu was also carried out in green and white. Green whipped cream topped the dainty salad. Snowy baked potatoes, peas and green peppers were appropriate. The dessert was of white ice cream with a centerpiece of green mint in the form of a clover leaf. The hostesses were Mrs. Claude Elliott and Mrs. Verner Johnson, chairmen of the section. Mrs. Percy Jackson, Mrs. W. B. Catudahl, Mrs. Myron Crawford, Mrs. J. W. Strickland and Mrs. F. I. Nagle.

Miss Hanna, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Lora Conroy at the close of the luncheon, who demonstrated the making of mayonnaise, and mixed a chocolate cake. Mrs. Conroy came from the Evening Express, and is an assistant of Kate Brew Vaughn.

Members and guests then went into the auditorium and were entertained by J. Smith Damon of Los Angeles in a demonstrated lecture on "The Potter and the Clay." Mr. Damon with the use of an old-fashioned kick-wheel mold, modeled several pieces of pottery during the lecture, including Gideon's jug, an Egyptian jar and vase. He had a wonderful display of china plates, each with a history of its own. Especially beautiful were two plates recently laid with gold of the pattern of a recent purchase of 1700 pieces for the White House, and the first order of china to be placed with an American firm, the Lenox pottery at Trenton, N. J. Another plate was a replica of pieces of broken china found in the excavation of ruins of the home of the father of George Washington at Wakefield, Virginia, and still another plate valued at the rate of $800 per dozen.

A large number of club members not enrolled in the economics section dropped in for the lecture.

Post to Discuss New Clubhouse Monday Night

Howard T. Douglas Post, American Legion of Covina, will discuss the proposed erection of a clubhouse at the regular meeting next Monday night in Longworth's cafe, it was announced this week by Commander Charles R. Zug.

Tentative plans for such a building have been prepared, and a general outline of the proposed building made. The post owns two lots just back of the plunge in the city park, and the plan is to erect a large building suitable for the accommodation of small conventions in conjunction with such gatherings in the park, and to establish a canteen and general meeting-place for the post. The commander and other local post members were in attendance this week at a state executive meeting of legionnaires in Los Angeles, and a large delegation also attended the reception to State Commander Frank Belgrano, held in Monrovia post clubhouse Tuesday night.

Valencia Grove of Forty Acres Sold to Barker

Forty acres of valencias at the northwest corner of Azusa avenue and San Francisco street, known for many years as the Flick grove, was sold this week to Bert S. Barker of Covina, the consideration not being named. The deal was made thru A. M. Glines, local real estate agent. The grove is declared to be one of the finest in that district, planted to valencias, seventeen years old, and with a fine crop on the trees. Mr. Barker has been a substantial investor in the valley since coming here a number of years ago from Kansas.

ALL NEWS IS ADVERTISING— ALL ADVERTISING IS NEWS

FAMILIES receiving a copy of this newspaper this week, and who are not subscribers, should consider the following facts:

The Argus is devoted exclusively to the printing of local news and local advertising. We define news something in this fashion—local happenings that reflect credit on the city and valley—good news—with as little of the other kind of news as possible. There are certain kinds of bad news that cannot be avoided. But when the Argus believes that no good purpose will be accomplished by printing a piece of bad news, it isn't printed. When we think that the people are entitled to know something that has happened, even tho it be bad news, we print it. If we think that bad news will benefit, or will serve as a warning, we print it. But we don't print news that is going to hurt somebody, just because it happens to be news. Bad news that hurts somebody will be read—it is interesting, that's true. But news that injures one injures all. We try to bear that fact in mind.

We print more advertising each week than any other weekly publication in the upper San Gabriel valley. There is every evidence that much of this advertising is interesting, and of value to the readers in city and valley. Covina stores are getting better all the time. And the subscriber to this paper always has an interesting department in the classified ads—there is nothing more human than classified ads. They will keep you in touch with the people of the valley. Read them as you would news—advertising is news, and news is advertising—they are inseparable.

If you want the paper to come regularly, call 100-31, Covina, and you will be put on the subscription list, with bill sent later. Or, when you are in Covina, call at the print shop, next door to the postoffice on Badillo street. TWO DOLLARS for the year; ONE DOLLAR for six months. THANK YOU.

Covina School Principal Returns From Extended Eastern Journey

Returning from attendance at the national convention for school superintendents, held at Cleveland, Prof. Ben S. Millikan of the Covina union high school district said this week that the gathering was attended by 10,000 of the leaders in education in the country, one of the largest in the history of American school work. The "Cardinal and White," weekly newspaper of the Covina school, reports the event as follows:

Well-known educators of the United States were speakers at various times during the week, the most prominent being John Dewey of Columbia, Dr. J. D. of the University of Chicago, and Superintendent Boynton of Ithaca, New York. Mr. Millikan also visited schools in Chicago, Cleveland and New York, as well as in many other cities. He saw many new things being done in eastern schools and saw the new informal elementary school. He said, concerning the eastern schools, "I was impressed by the interest, sincerity and purpose the students showed."

Other points of interest included in the trip were Buffalo, Niagara Falls, all the historical places near New York and Philadelphia, including the old state house and Betsy Ross's house.

Mr. Millikan arrived in Washington the Wednesday after the inauguration of Hoover, but he had the opportunity of visiting the White House and shaking hands with Mr. Hoover, as he had a letter of introduction from Senator Johnson of California.

One of the fortunate incidents of the trip was the opportunity that Mr. Millikan had of seeing in person the supreme court of the United States, of which ex-President Taft is chief justice.

All of the places of interest about Washington were visited by our principal. The senate and house chambers, the congressional library, where the original copies of the constitution of the United States are kept, Mount Vernon, Washington's home and burial place, and various museums were all visited.

Back in his office Mr. Millikan said, "I consider the convention the best I have ever attended, and altho it is delightful to travel in the east and see how the other half lives, I am thoroughly convinced there is no place like California."

Mexican Given Six Months for Fruit Thieving

Six months in the county jail, with no alternative fine, was meted out to a Mexican, Alphonso Avalos, by Judge Durrell, sitting in Covina Monday night, following his conviction on a charge of stealing oranges from Covina groves.

The case was worked up and arrests made by Deputy Constable J. W. Beardsley and Jess Mathers after several days of investigation. Shortly before six o'clock on Saturday morning, Deputy Beardsley found a Mexican woman sitting alone in a car on Grand avenue, south of Badillo street. She said that the name on the license plate was wrong, and showed contract for the sale of the car with names erased, but legible. On investigation the officers found over 200 pounds of fruit in sacks that had been taken from the Lindley grove, and which had been carried over four ten-acre ranches. Deputy Sheriff Freeman came from Los Angeles, and later traced the car and fruit to Belvedere, where he arrested the Mexican.

The convicted man was sentenced at Monrovia in 1927 for fruit thieving, which caused the judge to give him the limit sentence. Officers Beardsley and Mathers are patrolling the Covina district every night, and have found many evidences where fruit is being stolen. The greatest amount of vigilance should be exercised by all ranchers, they believe, as the situation is more acute this year than in many years.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR EIGHT NEW HOMES IN ADAMS SUBDIVISION

Hollywood Concern to Erect Modern Houses in Covina; Local Company Gets Lumber
Contract; Houses Built to Order

Eight new residences, ranging in price from $5,000 to $9,000, are to be built in the Adams tract, the first group to be under construction Monday morning of the coming week, it was announced yesterday by J. G. Delozier, promoter and financier of Glendora. Negotiations that have been in escrow for some weeks were completed this week with J. L. Matthews, owner of the lots.

The residences to be built at once are on scattered lots in Covina's best residential subdivision, west of the ten-acre park of the city, bounded on the south by Badillo avenue and the metropolitan interurban electric line, and on the north by Covina boulevard, the main traffic artery of this part of the valley.

The Hart Brothers Construction company of Hollywood are to build the homes, following the awarding of the contract yesterday. Viney & Milliken, lumber dealers of Covina, were awarded the lumber contract. Mr. Delozier gave out the will include the latest ideas that are being successfully incorporated in residences in the Hollywood and Beverly Hills subdivisions, but while the features of the construction will be modern, the property will be built economically, in order to remain within the reach of the seeker after modestly-priced homes. Many of the residences will be finished in stucco on the exterior.

Contractor Delozier made the statement yesterday that any citizens contemplating the building of a residence can have their plans included in any of the eight residences to be constructed. He will build according to the ideas of anyone, he said, within the price range and according to the tract restrictions.

The city of Covina is experiencing a steady growth without any indication of a boom, it was stated, and many homes are being built throughout the city and valley. Local men who have watched the conditions in the city and valley for many years believe that this year is presenting the best business conditions of any in the past, and that both residential and business property construction is warranted under the conditions.

Steinway Artist of KFI Married in Covina Home

One of the pretty home weddings of the Easter season, and one which introduces some charming newcomers to the community, occurred last night (Thursday) at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Springer at 330 East College street, when Miss Helen Langenberg was united to William De Jahn Theodore Asbury.

The bride is the niece of Mr. Springer, and is one of the talented artists heard over KFI, known as "Bobby Wilson, Sweetheart of the Steinway." Hundreds of Covina people have heard her on Monday afternoons between 3 and 3:45. She is the daughter of Prof. and Mrs. William H. Langenberg of Los Angeles, her father having been leader of the 54th Iowa regimental band until his residence in California six years ago.

Her mother has been known for many years as an interpreter of classical music on the Steinway, and as a voice teacher. Mr. Asbury is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Asbury of Montrose, Colorado, and has the honor of being the artist who drew the plans for the new Buick coach model that will shortly be shown all over the country.

It is the intention of the bride to open a studio of music at 330 East College street after the honeymoon, the date announced to be about April 3rd. An announcement of the opening of this studio will be made over KFI at that time, she said yesterday. The talented newcomers have already made numerous friends in the city and will undoubtedly be welcomed as a valuable addition to the musical and artistic life of the community.

GOLDEN WEDDING DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Landrum will serve a golden wedding dinner at their cafeteria on the 30th of March for Mr. Landrum's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Routt of Hollywood. They are expecting fifty guests from southern California and the east. Following the dinner a reception will be held at the residence of a son of the celebrants, Prof. Forrest V. Routt of Alhambra.

F. W. Carter has been ill for the past week, but is improving.

Golden Wedding Celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. Maurer

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Maurer celebrated their golden wedding Wednesday by holding a reception from 2 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon, attended by one hundred guests. Assisting in receiving were their children, Mrs. A. F. Rieke, Mrs. G. Dittberner, Miss Catherine Maurer, and a daughter-in-law, Mrs. P. H. Maurer. Rev. Michel, pastor of the German Lutheran church, gave a short talk during the afternoon. Ice cream, cake and coffee were served, and appropriately molded in the center of the ice cream was a golden wedding bell.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurer were presented with a beautiful chime clock by their children, and many lovely baskets and bouquets of flowers were received. A basket of handsome yellow rosebuds came from the church choir. There were other gifts and golden tulips and jonquils, besides the needed touch of bright color in pink carnations and variegated sweet peas and camillas.

Mr. Jacob Maurer and Miss Amelia Demmel were married in Madison, Nebraska, March 20, 1879. They settled on a farm at Union Creek, near Columbus, Nebraska, pioneering in their younger days, adding barns and granaries and a commodious house as necessity demanded. A son, Phillip, and three daughters, Emma, now Mrs. Dittberner, Minnie, now Mrs. Rieke, and Catherine were reared in this home and accompanied their parents to California between twenty-five and twenty-six years ago. Had they remained a few months longer, the silver wedding could have been celebrated in the old home.

Coming to California, the family settled on a ranch on East Covina boulevard, just outside the city limits of Covina, and three or four years later, at the marriage of Phillip, moved into their present home at 162 West Center street.

Among the out-of-town guests were a group of friends from Nebraska, Rev. Denninger, a former pastor, and his daughters and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johannes of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tiscutner of Rivera; Mr. and Mrs. Anton Meeg of Orange, and Mrs. Maggie Inis of Fullerton.

Ira Oberg Marries Miss Agnes Didier

The marriage of Miss Agnes Didier to Mr. Ira Oberg occurred Saturday in Riverside. The ceremony was at high noon. The couple were accompanied by the bride's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barker. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Mission Inn and the couple left immediately for San Diego. Upon their return they plan to make their home in Covina. The bride chose as her wedding gown an ensemble of beige with hat and shoes to match. She is a graduate nurse and for many months has assisted in the Covina hospital in that capacity. The groom is the son of Mrs. George Godfrey of Cypress avenue. Both young people are well known in the valley, having spent the greater part of their lives here.

VOTERS WOULD DISSOLVE FORMER SEWER DISTRICT

The election held in Covina Tuesday for the dissolution of district No. 7 of the proposed metropolitan sewer called out 169 votes. At the polling place in the Buick garage, accommodating the voters on the east side of Citrus avenue, there were 70 votes cast, 68 for and 2 against. At the Woman's clubhouse, the precinct extending west of Citrus avenue to Baldwin Park, 99 votes were polled, 98 for and 1 against.

Radio Dealers Hold Meeting at Longworth's Cafe

There were fifty-three members of the valley chapter of the Radio Trades Association of Southern California who sat down to a dinner at Longworth's cafe last Thursday evening, presided over by George E. Hyatt of Pomona, with R. J. Tobey of Ontario as secretary.

Local radio dealers, including Sam Stead, Harold Houser, Miles Scofield, George Meek and the Hurley brothers, participated in the meeting, and business problems relating to this industry were discussed for nearly two hours. The retail radio business has come to be one of the largest of any in the valley, with many problems new to business men. The valley area is known to be one of the best localities for the sale of radios, and ranks high in southern California in this respect. All the standard machines on the market are represented in Covina by reputable dealers, it was pointed out. The association pledges itself to work for the general betterment of the business, believing that the best service to the radio owner is the best manner of increasing the business.

Tramp Unable to See Idea of Wasting Pie

A tramp called at a motion picture studio, begging for something to eat.

"Just the man we need!" cried the director. "You require no make-up. Our tramp failed to show up. Do what you're told and I'll see that you eat."

"Now, when I give the signal, you steal this custard pie from the window-sill, and run around the house. A policeman will chase you, and when he is about to catch you, you throw the pie at him."

"Take careful aim, and, if possible, hit him in the face." At the given signal, the tramp appropriated the pie and disappeared behind the house. In a little while a policeman gave chase, and cornered him.

The director shouted: "Throw the pie, throw the pie!" No pie was forthcoming!

The late director had the camera stopped and then he roared: "Why didn't you throw the pie? Where is it?"

The tramp, wiping his mouth with his coat sleeve, answered: "When I gets my hand on a pie, I eats it."

"You're fired!" thundered the director. "Wrong again, pard," said the tramp, "when I eats, I quits."

English Castle Once Had Merman Prisoner
A curious legend is associated with historic Oxford castle, on the Suffolk coast (England) which recently came under the auctioneer's hammer.

Fishermen are said to have captured a merman not far from the castle, and the interesting monster, so runs the legend, was imprisoned in the castle keep, and an attempt was made to tame and humanize him.

The merman, however, was a "difficult" subject, and one dark night, when the efforts to tame him seemed about to be crowned with success, he escaped by some mysterious means from his prison, and was no more seen of man.

The castle is stated to have been built about the Twelfth century, and the imposing Norman keep with its three square embattled towers, the Norman pillars, capitals, and altar ruins of the old chapel remain, an ancient staircase still leading to the dungeons.

United States Motto

"E pluribus unum," the Latin phrase that has become our national motto, originally occurred in a poem entitled "Moretum," supposed by some to have been written by Virgil. It literally means, "one from many," or "from many one." According to the Pathfinder Magazine, the Continental congress on July 4, 1776, appointed Franklin, John Adams and Jefferson a committee to choose a device for the seal of the United States of America, and this committee consulted Eugene Pierre Du Simlere, a West Indian Frenchman living in Philadelphia, who had some reputation as an artist and he submitted a device containing the above phrase. Usually, however, the motto is attributed to Jefferson.

Building America

America would have been discovered had there been no Columbus; but there could have been no United States had it not been for the tens of thousands of peasants, artisans, merchants, sailors and adventurers—common men and women—who braved the danger of long ocean voyages, cut down the forests, cleared the land, built the towns, drove back the Indians, and pushed the line of peaceful homesteads across the American continent until it touched the Pacific ocean.—Charles A. Beard.

Australian Emblems

The Australian flag is a blue ensign, the description of which is as follows: The Union Jack in the top left-hand corner; in the center of the lower canton next the staff and pointing direct to the center of the St. George's cross in the Union Jack, a white seven-pointed star (representing the six states and the territories of the commonwealth); in the fly, five smaller white stars, representing the Southern cross. A red flag, carrying the same markings, is used by the Australian merchant shipping.

Sweden in History

The place names of Sweden, many dating as far back as the Bronze age, and from viking times, are now being specially studied and it is expected that much light will be thrown upon many linguistic and historic problems in other parts of Europe, as the population of Sweden has remained practically homogeneous for thousands of years. The language spoken has always been Swedish, although Swedish literature cannot be said to have existed earlier than the Thirteenth century.

Provides Splendid View

The tenth funicular railway of Austria, recently opened, leads from Innsbruck Dolomites, the fine mountain range behind the Tyrolean capital. The passenger is taken some 6,500 feet above sea level within an hour. Thence he can walk on to a plateau. The view from there is one of the most beautiful in the Austrian Alps.

Cathedral Dimensions

The length of the cathedral of St. John the Divine (Episcopal), New York—601 feet—is greater than that of Amiens, which is 521 feet long; Cologne, which is 511 feet; Chartres, which is 507 feet, and Milan, which is 500 feet.

MODISTE TO LECTURE FOR LOCAL CLUB WOMEN

Madame Babin, famous French modiste, has been secured by the Covina's Woman's club to appear at its clubhouse Wednesday, the 27th, to give one of her delightfully interesting and instructive lectures on dressmaking. Madame Babin comes with the highest recommendations from the clubs where she has appeared previously, which include Santa Monica, Beverly Hills, Eagle Rock, Montevia, Azusa and others throughout the United States. She will bring a fascinating array of Paris gowns which will be displayed by living models. She will demonstrate to her audience new and clever ideas in dressmaking and remodeling, and will show how to use the universal pattern and will cut and fit upon forms which she will bring.

She brings with her many new suggestions for dainty lingerie, house dresses and evening gowns and wraps. She will answer all questions, and will solve each one's individual dress problems. Madame Babin is particularly clever at remaking, altering and putting artistic, unusual touches on old or outgrown clothes.

This unique and educational entertainment is being given to women of Covina by the club women, and the instruction and entertainment they will receive will many times exceed the price of admission, which is 50 cents.

CLUB WOMEN WILL HEAR PIANISTS AND READER

An enjoyable meeting is promised for the Covina Woman's club Monday, when Madame Bal De Zuniga will return to the club to play a group of piano numbers with her pupil, Miss Dorothy Blanchard.

Ethel Elliott Swan, who will be remembered for her reading of "Romeo and Juliet" last year, will read "You and I," by Philip Barry. The next meeting of the needlework section of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. W. Fields on 411 East Badillo street, Wednesday, March 27th.

School Presents "College Days" Operetta Tonight

Covina union high school presents the operetta, "College Days" tonight (Friday). There are eight students in the cast, and sixty in the chorus. Those students taking principal parts have appeared in other school productions and are known to the community.

Ray Williams, from Baldwin Park, takes the part of Davy Carson, the baseball hero, and a friend of all Camdale college, while Sarah Beth Koch plays opposite him as Dorothy Smith, the president's daughter. Bob Walker takes the part of Horace Greely Smith, known to the students as "Prexy." His scenes with Miss Teale, the dean of women, whose heart flutters with romance, are most heart-rendering. Madale Long of Baldwin Park sings this part very well.

Joe Ross takes the part of a jovial, active college fellow who does all he can to prove that Davy Carson is loyal and has not done anything to disgrace the college. Helen Harris plays opposite him as Helen Gordon, and her acting and singing are very well done.

There must be a villain in all plays, and in "College Days" there are two. These are Claude Morlan as "Foxy Grandpa," and owner of the town pool hall, and William Bradley as "Dude De Forest," the best-dressed man in college.

The six chorus dances, the modern costuming and setting, all purport to make it an interesting operetta.

MEN'S CLUB SECURES NATIONAL SPEAKER

Will G. Farrell, a public speaker of national reputation, who has been telling the story of California to the people of the east, under the direction of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce, has been secured by the Covina Men's club to deliver the address at the next meeting.

Instead of this meeting being held as usual on Friday night, it will be held on Thursday night of next week, and all members and friends are cautioned to remember this change in date.

The Covina chamber of commerce is taking an interest in this meeting, and President Stanley Whitehead of the Men's club announces that there will be an interesting musical program.

Phone Network For Broadcasting Sets New Record

Manager Frank Wright of the local telephone company is in receipt of some interesting facts in regard to the broadcasting of the Hoover inaugural address as follows:

"Wire lines provided by the American Telephone & Telegraph company especially for the occasion transmitted the Hoover inauguration ceremonies on March 4, to 113 stations of the total in the two nationwide chains, made a record network set-up by its long distance lines department.

"According to a telephone company representative, more than 61,500 miles of actual program circuit were provided to conduct the Washington broadcast to the transmitters in other cities. In addition there were more than 27,600 miles of telephone wire in use during the broadcast for the purpose of conveying other intelligence between the stations.

"More than 500 telephone technicians were employed in maintaining the wire lines. About 40 of these were in Washington.

"There were 300 telephone line repeaters in service to boost the voice currents at various points throughout the country. Three complete trunk lines across the country were utilized. More than 90,000 miles of wire were actually in constant use throughout a large part of the day for the presentation.

"Officials of the National Broadcasting company, the Associated Press reported, estimated that possibly 63,000,000 persons heard the inaugural program, including listeners in North and South America, Great Britain, Europe, Asia, Northern Africa, Australia and New Zealand."

The Carefree Way to Town

THIS way, you arrive in Los Angeles fresh for the day's activities. No traffic worries or parking fees when you ride the Big Red Cars. You can read or rest on the way. The motorman does the driving.

And commutation fares are only a trifle over 1 cent per mile. There's a real saving—enough to pay for a lot of things. Next summer's vacation, for instance. Figure it out in your own case.

Try the Red Cars for two weeks and you'll see why more and more people are finding this the practical, carefree way to go. Investigate the convenient schedules.

For Sunday travel, new $1.00 and $2.50 passes offer added convenience and economy.

Emphasizing the growing importance of locally manufactured products in community progress, a traveling exhibition of California-built passenger automobiles will visit Covina tomorrow (Saturday) and Sunday, March 23-24, according to an announcement today by E. A. Harnish, local Willys-Knight and Whippet dealer.

The caravan, consisting of the first completely equipped automobiles in the latest body and styles colors to be built at the new $1,500,000 factory of Willys-Overland, Inc., in Los Angeles, will travel under its own power on a 2000-mile itinerary that will take it thru practically every city and town in southern California during the next six weeks.

The opening of the new factory recently marked a new milestone in the industrial progress of southern California. Thousands of visitors witnessed the process of building these automobiles. Thousands of others who were unable to visit the factory will now have opportunity to view the finished products in their own community.

Plans are being completed to have local civic and business interests extend welcome to the caravan, and residents of Covina will have opportunity to view the procession, as well as inspect the automobiles during the stay in this city. A number of models will be seen for the first time when the exhibition reaches here.

Since the opening of the factory shortly after the first of the year, production has been increasing rapidly and today the plant is working near capacity, 100 automobiles being turned off the production line daily by about 900 employees.

Early Days in Covina

TEN YEARS AGO

The 55th ammunition train, containing a majority of the Covina men serving in the expeditionary forces, arrived in Newport News on Monday. The news was verified on Tuesday when a flood of telegrams was received notifying their families of their safe arrival.

W. H. Collins, orange rancher of Charter Oak, is receiving congratulations this week on the fact that he owns a twenty-acre walnut grove within 600 feet of the oil gusher which came in this week on the C. C. Chapman property at Placentia. A number of oil men have been trying to secure an option on the ranch this week.

Mrs. G. D. Jennings and Mrs. Carroll Webb were guests of Mrs. W. P. Nye at the "Shop Talk" meeting of the Woman's Press club in Los Angeles Tuesday afternoon.

At a mass meeting of the taxpayers of the Covina city grammar school district, held Monday evening, the members of the board of trustees were instructed to at once submit to the voters a proposed bond issue of $150,000 for the erection of new grammar school buildings. The issue would also include the erection of a modern building to replace the Lark Ellen school.

Soaking rains yesterday raised the season's total to .79 inches.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The stockholders of the Columbia Land & Water company held their annual stockholders' meeting on Monday afternoon at the residence of the president, F. M. Chapman, of Palmetto ranch.

The following ticket for city officers to be voted on at the spring election is published: E. H. Lahee, trustee; W. Q. Custer, trustee; John Villinger, trustee; F. M. Douglas, treasurer; J. R. Hodges, clerk; Geo. W. Van Vleet, marshal.

Mrs. Simon Beannblossom of Los Angeles, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Will Sanders, has gone to Redlands to stay with another daughter.

J. V. Hadley of Pomona has purchased a half interest in the Covina Meat Market and the firm will now be known as Madison & Hadley.

E. A. McDonald, the popular head plumber and tinner at Fabrick's hardware, has purchased an Oldsmobile. With the ladies he is now spoken of as one of the most charming young men in the city.

Last Friday B. S. Webb was in Los Angeles ordering some chandeliers and other materials for the new Christian church.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Hoagland left today for Mejer, Pa., to reside.

Business Women Hold Annual Meet at Stone Lantern

The Business and Professional Women's club held its annual meeting Monday night at the Stone Lantern. Following a 6:30 dinner, the officers of the club and the chairman of committees reported for their activities during the year. The election of officers for the year commencing April first was also held, resulting in the re-election of Virgie Wilson as president; Ruth Law, first vice; Gladys Johnson, second vice; Nell Sides, recording secretary; Lucille Gloege, corresponding secretary; Nell Coffman, treasurer; Marion Mountain, auditor.

Interspersed thruout the evening were club songs. An interesting event was the roll call, each member narrating the earning of her first dollar. Mrs. Amy De Fount, a former member now residing in Los Angeles, was a guest. She gave a group of songs, accompanied by Mrs. H. A. Werden.

Mrs. Ella Bonner, who, together with the late Mrs. Ethel Curtis, called the first group together for organization, was also a guest and talked on the early history of the club. There were several of the charter members present. Mrs. Stella Brown had with her a copy of Christopher Morley's essays, giving a short talk on them.

Pending state legislation concerning women was discussed.

RICHARD KREBS DIES AT AZUSA AVENUE HOME

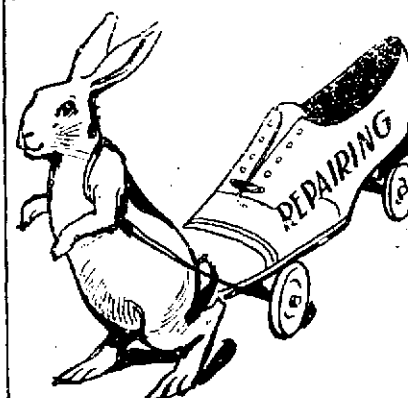

Richard Krebs died at his home on Azusa avenue last Thursday. The funeral was held Monday from the Christiansen & Moore parlors. The services at the chapel and Oakdale cemetery were in charge of the Masonic order, deceased having joined the Anaheim lodge in 1883. The pallbearers were William Sproutte, Fred Williams, Lee Tucker, William Otto, Charles Hanes, and Carl Wesch.

CITIZENS TO WITNESS SCHOOLS IN ACTION

Beginning the week of Monday, April 22, the week has been designated as Covina school week, with the slogan, "See your school in action."

There will be demonstrations and exercises on each night of that week in the grammar and high schools of the district, with the principal program to be held on Friday, April 27, at which time all the schools will gather at the high school auditorium for a massed program. The Covina chamber of commerce is taking an active interest in these programs, and all the citizens of the valley are invited to attend and inspect the schools during the week.

COVINA TO HAVE SPECIAL DAY AT SAN GABRIEL MISSION PLAY

R. D. MacLean, noted Shakespearean actor, as Fray Junipero Serra in John Steven McCroarty's Mission Play, now in its seventeenth season at the new Mission Playhouse, San Gabriel.

"WEEDS"

I.
As I sat in the garden dreaming
I saw trees and flowers gleaming
In the sun;
Flowers of every hue—gold, yellow,
blue;
Stately shrubs, noble trees, demure lilies, too.
All was beauty, calmness, rest,
A perfumed haven, all sun blest—
So it seemed.

II.
Then my eyes a weed bespied;
How meek, harmless, it looked—
Surely it no evil brooded,
Nestled there beside a flow'r.
But soon another one and yet another.
My searching, wandering glances discover.
Annoyed was I, my brow was troubled,
My garden peace it then was ruffled;
No longer perfect calmness then did reign,
For weeds had found my sunny haven.

III.
Barely troubled at first was I,
Nor heeded their sinuous, stealthy way.
Until, alas, one dreadful day
I found my garden, oh, dismay!
The flowers choked, trees all droopy,
Even the birds provoked
To see my beautiful paradise all destruction—
So it seemed.

IV.
But, thought I, my trees are there,
The shrubs not completely bare.
The weeds I'll hoe,
The grass I'll mow,
And with labor, patience, time,
A seed or two,
A prayer or so,
I'll have, again, a garden fine.

V.
Just so is life—
A garden lovely;
Calmness, peace content—
So it should be.
But man is sometimes godly,
Sometimes mean, ugly, malicious;
Then comes trouble, sorrow, grief,
And the good, the trusting, and innocent
Suffer oppression, injustice and pain.
But with labor, patience, time,
A hope or two,
A prayer or so,
God plants, again, a garden fine.

HEAT PROCESS TO RECOVER OIL FROM SAND

To obtain greater quantities of oil from sand that has been drained by usual methods, Ben E. Lindley, of the bureau of mines, has proposed to subject the strata to heated natural gas under pressure. His idea is based on the theory that, if the oil is raised to a high temperature, virtually all of it can be vaporized and forced out of the sand. According to his findings, not more than fifteen per cent of the oil is recovered by present methods.

BIT OF PHILOSOPHY

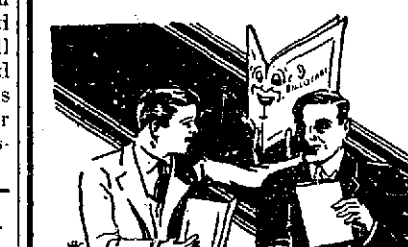

There's a story that goes like this:
A tourist and his family drove into a strange town and stopped at a service station, the keeper of which was something of a philosopher.
"What kind of a burg is this?"
queried the tourist?
"What kind of a town did you come from?" asked the station man.
"A bum town; the people were terrible," answered the tourist.
"You'll find them the same way here," opined the station proprietor.
A second tourist drove in.
"What kind of a town is this?"
he asked.
"What kind of a town did you come from?" the philosopher asked.
"A dandy town," said the tourist.
"The people were fine and I hated to leave them, but my wife's health wasn't good back there."
"You'll find this a dandy town and the people are fine, too," said the philosopher.

Church Throng in Last Tribute to Mrs. Minnie Garst

A throng that more than filled the Brethren church at Glendora was in attendance on Monday afternoon, March 18, at three o'clock to pay loving tribute to the memory of Mrs. Minnie Lucielle Zug Garst, who died at her home in Pomona on Friday, March 15, at the age of twenty-eight years, five months and twelve days. Mrs. Garst had been a patient sufferer for some time from a diabetic condition, and death came as a sad blow to many in the valley.

Mrs. Garst was widely known thruout the communities of Covina, Glendora, La Verne and Pomona, a staunch worker in the Church of the Brethren, of which she was a member in Covina. The funeral was conducted by Rev. Leland Brubaker of Covina, Rev. A. D. Sollenberger of Glendora and Rev. J. E. Steinhour of Belvedere.

Mrs. Garst was born at Covina, October 3, 1900, the youngest daughter of John E. and Rollie May Zug. She was a student of La Verne college, graduating from the academic department in May, 1918. She became a member of the Church of the Brethren in Covina in 1912. On June 30, 1920, she was married to Omar Garst of Pomona, and to them were born two children, Wilfred E., age seven and one-half years, and Doris Elly, age three and one-half years. Besides her husband and children, she leaves her father and step-mother, Mrs. Ida H. Zug; a brother, Charles R. Zug of Covina; a sister, Mrs. Selma Jackson of Glendora, and grandmother, Mrs. Mary Zug of Glendora. There are many other relatives, and a host of friends thruout the valley.

Mrs. Garst was earnest in her Christian life, taking a deep interest in the work of the Sunday school, serving faithfully and efficiently as a teacher in the various places where she resided. She is missed by many who were intimate with her in this work, as well as by the large number of relatives.

The casket was banked by an unusually large number of floral offerings, mute tributes to the love and esteem in which the young woman was held.

C. A. summer camp. The "Y" also awards a banner to each of the schools whose participants win championships.

On Sunday, which promises to be a day of exceptionally large attendance, the evangelist will begin with the Sunday school at 9:15, when he will give one of his chalk talks. His message at 11 o'clock will be "Taking Away the Difficulties." Sunday night he will speak on the subject, "The Greatest Question Ever Facing a Human Soul." Special feature subjects will be introduced each night during the coming week, to which everyone is invited.

Rev. Dixon, whose home is in Dallas, has traveled all over the United States and parts of Canada, conducting revivals. He is being assisted by the pastor, Rev. R. W. Gentry, and by former pastors of the Covina church.

Christian Science Lecture Delivered in Auditorium

John Rendall Dunn, C.S.B., of Boston, member of the board of lecturership of the Mother Church, First Church of Christ, Scientist, delivered an address last Sunday evening at 8 o'clock before an audience in the Covina grammar school. The lecture was under the auspices of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Covina. A part of the lecture is as follows:

The widespread interest in the subject of Christian Science, in this and other lands, is traceable directly to the fact that the mortal is finding in its spiritual teaching that liberator graphically pictured by Isaiah as sent "to preach good tidings unto the meek; . . . to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound." The attempts of some misinformed critics to prove that Christian Science is not this liberator, that the sick are not healed, the sinning reformed, nor the sorrowing comforted thru its ministrations, are of course of little moment in the presence of ever-increasing hosts of witnesses testifying to the fact that whereas they were bound physically, mentally, or morally, now they are experiencing thru the teachings of Christian Science a greater measure of health, freedom, and happiness than they have ever known.

In the past few years it has been my great privilege to attend Christian Science services, and talk with students of Christian Science in many lands—in Great Britain, Continental Europe, South Africa, Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines, the Orient, the West Indies, Alaska, and in hundreds of places in the United States and Canada; and if a stenographic report could have been taken of all the testimonies of healing and regeneration I have heard, it would make a record filling volumes.

I regret to confess the fact that before I knew anything about Christian Science, I had read a line of its authorized literature, or attempted to prove by demonstration its truth or its error. I was one of that now rapidly decreasing number of persons who seem to take special delight in making flippant and unchristian remarks about Mrs. Eddy, the discoverer and founder of Christian Science, and in laughing at the movement in general. I was quite sure that Christian Scientists worshipped Mrs. Eddy and that her system of healing was only willpower of the human mind over matter. In fact, my fund of information as to what Christian Science does not teach, reminds me of the immigrant applying for admission to this country, who was asked if he was familiar with the constitution of the United States. He replied: "Indeed I am. I learned to sing it when I was a boy!"

But when at last I read the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, and when I had attended a few services, I found that which no impartial investigator could fail to discover: that Christian Scientists worship the supreme and only God and entertain for the revered leader of their movement only sentiments of affection and deep gratitude. I found, instead of a system of material philosophy, dealing with the action of willpower and suggestion, the purest Christian metaphysics, based upon a spiritual sense of the scriptures. Well may we rejoice that Mrs. Eddy, during her search after truth, had investigated so-called magnetic healing, and mind-cure based upon hypnotic control, and found such systems not only devoid of spirituality, but positively iniquitous; and even a casual glance thru the pages of the textbook should convince any fair-minded person that Christian Science is as far from hypnotism and suggestion as is Christ from Belial.

Gentlemen: I have lived in this country all my life. I moved on this ranch of 40 acres three years ago and started to improve it. This land has been farmed to grain and pastured. I have 10 acres in alfalfa, a family orchard of about 100 trees, and the balance is in pasture. I cut 7 to 8 tons of alfalfa to an acre. Had I leveled my land better for irrigation, I should get 9 to 10 tons. I am milking 20 good grade cows and have about 30 head of hogs. I sell butter fat and feed skimmed milk to the hogs. My cows produce about $200 each per year in butter fat. Half of this is net profit and what I make on hogs is additional profit. We get 2c to 3c per pound locally above San Francisco market quotations. We have a good market for our cream. Hogs are always in good demand. San Francisco and Sacramento are our good markets. I would not take $2500 for my 40 acres. My pumping plant cost $2000. Cows are worth about $100 per head.

Very truly yours,
ARNOLD R. BEAN.

Watch the Baldwin Hills—

Clara Baldwin Stocker, elder daughter of E. J. "Lucky" Baldwin, died a few days ago, and her estate is being administered by Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Mullender of West Covina. Mrs. Mullender is a grand-daughter of this pioneer woman, and around her home in the Covina valley the hills rise over land which "Lucky" Baldwin's racing stock grazed in those palmy days when the noted horseman was in his prime.

A large part of the hill land directly south of Covina was owned by Mrs. Stocker, and this will be subdivided, it was stated this week. One of the propositions received by the Covina chamber of commerce this week was that of considering the advocacy of the erection of a home for Protestant women, a stipulation in the Stocker will. Presumably, this home, which the pioneer woman provided for so liberally, is designed to house women who are incapacitated for life's struggle, but who are otherwise deserving. The hills south of Covina are coming to be the locality for many institutions. There are two preparatory schools in that region now, and one state institution.

Covina valley people should remember what occurred when "Lucky" Baldwin died, and what a profound effect his death had on the advancement of this valley. Baldwin went out of life's picture at the right time, at a ripe old age, and when everything for which he had labored, and much that he had loved, had become obsolete, such as the raising of fine horses, the maintenance of racing stables. Grazing lands were no longer of much value. At the time that his will went to probate, it was estimated that the old horseman was worth about $2,500,000. From 1910 until 1915, when his estate finally came up for distribution, it had advanced in value from that first estimate to that of over thirty million dollars.

It was subdivision and the deep-well pump that did the trick. The plains south and west of Covina were transformed from acres that grew six sacks of wheat to the acre to walnut orchards and citrus groves. The Byron Jackson company in San Francisco had announced their perfected deep-well pump about the same time that Baldwin let go his hold on life. This combination of events brot about the transformation of a dry plain of some thirty thousand acres to an orchard paradise.

These hills that still remain in the family of the Baldwins—what of them? Are we to see residential subdivisions over all the lomas south of the orange area? The locality is most desirable from that standpoint. Already it has attracted a colony of California's biggest bankers, who are busy making fine estates in these rolling hills.

Watch Covina on the south. It is going to develop. Certain phases of progress are at work. Time is making possible great changes. We, of Covina—are we to be a part of this development, or are we to be apart from it?

As Some See Us—

You hear it on the street, every day. The town isn't growing. We are at a standstill. Other places are going ahead. What's the matter with us? Can't we build some streets? What's the reason why someone doesn't get busy? —etc.—etc.

A retired business man who was here for seven months in 1912 was in Covina this week. He drove around the town leisurely, spent an hour in the city park, visited some old friends, went thru the packinghouses, and dropped around to the newspaper office.

"We fellows living in the smaller middle western towns don't see how you do it out here," he said. "This town has made remarkable strides since I was here the last time. There is a distinct change in the appearance of the business district. I was surprised at the number of fine residences in the city and valley. Your roads everywhere are a marvel, even the by-ways and streets of lesser importance. All the towns in the valley have changed as much as a boy or girl changes in the period between grammar school and college. And speaking of schools, the buildings you have here look like state universities to me. You have a wonderful present, and a marvelous future."

So, then, you can take your choice of opinions. Another man said the other day: "This town is growing too fast. You're going to have to tear down and rebuild a lot of improvements you're making now, because they are not planned right for expansion."

Write your own ticket. Somebody must be the wise one that can size up the situation. Get the pessimists in a corner, and they'll admit that this is a good town.

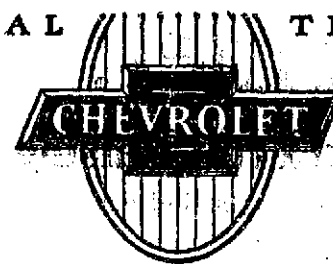

After Dark Visitors—

County officers are issuing a strong warning to all fruit growers to watch their groves and prevent fruit thieving. The situation is declared to be as bad as it has ever been in southern California.

While there is a regular patrol maintained in the Covina district, it is manifestly impossible to cover the district thoroughly in the night, and with many absentee growers the situation is complicated. Much fruit is stolen about which nothing is ever known, it is believed.

With the apprehension and conviction of one old offender this week, the officers were able to put a stop to at least one serious leakage, but there is much more thieving in progress than is generally known, the officers point out. Ranchers should report at once to the constable if there is any suspicion that thieving is in progress, and the night patrol will respond. Trucks parked by the side of the road should be investigated. In many cases the fruit is carried a long distance from where it is stolen, and placed on trucks or in cars parked on distant roadways. Considerable value in fruit can be taken in one night from an orchard. It has come to be one of the difficult problems in connection with the citrus industry.
